This week new class officers were elected and new safety members were chosen for the remainder of this year. The new officers are: Carol Cunningham, president; Joan Twitchell, vice-president; and Sally Trice, secretary.

The fourth grade, room 5, culminated the study of Mexico with a "pinata" celebration. The pinata was suspended from the pergola crosspieces and everyone had a chance to knock it down. During the attempts, the rest of the children sat around, all poised for the scramble that always follows the breaking of the pinata. It was a most enjoyable celebration.

The committee members who made the parrot pinata were: Marjorie Jackson, Gordon Jennings and Barbara Love.

Cub Scouts Discuss Achievements

The Cubs of Pack 328 had their most enjoyable meeting of the year to date when they met on Thursday evening at Wallace hall with the Rev. Philip Harris, assistant cubmaster, in charge. For the first twenty minutes the Cubs met with Arthur Crouch to discuss their achievements while their parents met with the assistant cubmaster and Den mothers. Following this business meeting the parents enjoyed watching the boys in their "Cub Olympics."

The meeting was then called to order. New Den mothers, Mrs. Bud Jennings and Mrs. Luther Lyman, were introduced and in turn introduced their boys. Boys who received achievement awards were: Jack Gardner, Wolf badge; Willard Kriegbaum, Bear badge; and Jack Keck, Gold and Silver arrow points. Entertainment was furnished by Dens 1, 2, 3 and 5. The meeting closed with each den forming its own living circle.

Pack 328 has just been re-organized and re-registered with the following fathers signed as pack committeemen: Arthur E. Crouch, Willard L. Kriegbaum, Sr., Hulon Sullivan and Martin Murphy.

Kraft Endorsed By Many Groups

The "outstanding record of Assemblyman Fred H. Kraft" has received the endorsement of scores of organizations representing municipal, county, trade, professional, ex-service and other groups, it was revealed today by the Kraft-for-Assembly committee.

"The best testimony for re-election of a legislator is the record, which speaks for itself in the case of Fred Kraft, who certainly deserves to be re-elected overwhelmingly to the assembly from the 78th district," said a spokesman for the committee.

Kraft, during his first term as a legislator, not only was named to the powerful ways and means committee because of his training in financial and accounting matters, but he had 15 bills enacted into law.

Many of these bills were requested by the San Diego city council, and the Board of Supervisors.

Among some of the organizations wholeheartedly endorsing Kraft's record are the California Taxpayers Assn., California World War No. 2 Veterans Assn., Merchants & Manufacturers, California Fire Chiefs Assn., Assn. of California Hospitals, S. D. Teachers Assn., California Youth Authority, California Roadside Council, Public Health League, Assn. of S. D. County School Administrators, Disabled American Veterans, California Retail Grocers Assn., California Pharmaceutical Assn. and scores of others.

U. S. O. ITEMS

The Ocean Beach U.S.O. held the first in a series of outdoor wiener roasts, bringing well over two hundred servicemen to the clubrooms and proved so popular that a decision was made to substitute this form of entertainment for some now being given. Dancing followed.

The Sunday night buffet supper is also proving to be a draw. Card and a capacity crowd attended this feature.

Saturday night, May 13th, another dance will be given and special decorations and entertainment are being planned by the committee in charge. The citizens of Ocean Beach can extend their hospitality to the servicemen by bringing in cookies, cakes and doughnuts any time during the week.

The clubrooms open every day during the week at five o'clock, except Saturday and Sunday, when they open at two o'clock.

Mason Believes In Recreation Areas

Harrison W. Mason, candidate for supervisor in the First San Diego district, believes that development of our great beach and recreational areas is in the best interest of the people. In a statement to the Mason campaign committee at Ocean Beach, which is furthering his candidacy, Mason said:

"Constant and continued development of our fish and game resources, and other outdoor recreational facilities, and promotion of our great back country scenic and mountain and park areas, our lakes and our streams as well as our ocean and beach areas. San Diego is a sportsman's paradise, and such organizations as the San Diego Fish and Game association should be encouraged and given a wide official as well as public recognition for their splendid work. San Diego's ocean beaches, its scenic parks and driveways, together with its unexcelled back-country, mountain and valley areas are of inestimable interest and worth to our people, as well as to the thousands of newcomers here now, and those who will constantly visit us from all over the nation in the months to come. The people want these assets developed and promoted, and as the board of supervisors is the highest public authority in this county, it should accept and take on this assignment with vision and foresight as its watchword and constant objective."

Chamber Commerce IN THE SERVICE-- Plan Dinner Meet

The Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday night, May 8, at the Ocean Village cafe, 5172 West Point Loma blvd. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock sharp. Members and visitors will have the choice of dinner at one dollar a plate.

Members and citizens of Ocean Beach, this is a very important meeting, as we have a city election coming up on May 16, and the Chamber has arranged to have as speakers of the evening, the various candidates who are now seeking election to the different offices. That vitally affects our own homes and our city.

This Chamber feels that it is the duty to give our citizens an opportunity to meet the different candidates in person so you may form your own opinion as to which one you wish to vote for. In order that this cafe may be able to serve us properly it will be necessary to have as many reservations as possible, by Saturday evening.

Reservations may be had by calling B-3888 and giving name and dinner preferred, or B-6747. Plans will be presented at the meeting for our new recreation building at the foot of Newport ave.

We are looking forward to a good turnout and the pleasure of your company.

—Lloyd D. Greason.

Pioneer Resident Reveals Old History

Speaking before Ocean Beach Kiwanis club at the Tuesday evening luncheon, Frank B. McElwee, resident here since 1905, gave interesting early history prior to his coming, as well as during the early years of his residence here. Heber Hartvigsen was program chairman.

When McElwee came to Ocean Beach, he said, there were no homes on the westerly slope of Point Loma. There was no water available and when one of the early settlers did put in a well and pump it cost 25 cents to water a horse and almost as much for a bucket for picnic use.

Billie Carlson, one-time mayor of San Diego, was the first promoter to sell lots out here. In order to arouse enthusiasm among visitors he endeavored to build a railroad from Old Town San Diego to Ocean Beach via Rosecrans street, a narrow canyon by way of what is now Voltaire street, and meandering across the best grade to Saratoga street and down to the ocean. An old railroad engine was bought but enough rails could not be secured so when the road was two-thirds finished, the rails on the Old Town end of the line were taken up so that the rails might be laid clear into Ocean Beach. Finally Carlson ran out of money "and credit," so the railroad was abandoned and a special wagon built to haul the locomotive back into San Diego.

The first really big real estate boom to hit Ocean Beach was in 1912 when the corner adjoining the police station at the foot of Santa Monica street sold for $15,000 cash. Another example of sky-rocketed values was a refusal of $10,000 for a corner at Voltaire and Bacon streets.

The first school was established here in 1907 in the old building still standing at Bacon and Niagara streets. There were six pupils in attendance.

The San Diego Street Railway company established a route here in 1908 and the growth since that time has been continuous, sometimes slow and sometimes rapid, but always on the increase.

The estimated population now served from the Ocean Beach post office is 20,000 people.

Otis Taylor, U.S.N., now located at Camp Elliott, was a guest of George Moriarty.

Decoration Given S. D. Tarawa Hero

Lt. Col. Raymond L. Murray, U. S. Marine, of 4868 Del Monte ave., was decorated for bravery at Tarawa, the Marine Corps western procurement division announced at San Francisco.

He received the Gold Star in lieu of a second Silver Star from Adm. Chester W. Nimitz. He was cited for "leading his unit with great courage and superior skill against the enemy from island to island until they were destroyed in action on the last island, completing the seizure of Tarawa atoll."

Ocean Beach P.T.A. May Meeting and Installation

"Going to Blazes" will be the topic of the May meeting of the Ocean Beach P.T.A. with Fire Marshal Warner Austin giving a 30-minute fire demonstration. It will be held in the school auditorium May 9, at 1:30 p. m.

Safety in the home concerns all parents so we should have a good attendance. There will also be the installation of officers, with Miss Kate Spani, past principal of the Ocean Beach school, as installing officer.

The new officers to be installed are: President, Mrs. L. A. Duer; first vice-president, Mrs. E. F. Olson; second vice-president, Mrs. Ray. Forshaw; secretary, Mrs. R. Ramage; auditor, Mrs. C. Hebert; historian, Mrs. C. Sikes; and parliamentarian, Mrs. R. Hayman. The tea hostesses will be the third and fourth grade room mothers. Everyone is welcome.

Unending Allied Air Offensive Blasts Nazi's Western Defenses, Railroads; Lag Seen in Farm Machinery Output; Dutch East Indies Bombed by British

EUROPE:

Unending Raids

An unending procession of U. S. and British bombers soared over western Europe blasting the invasion path, while in the Balkans to the southeast, Axis forces went over to the attack to shore up the Russians' drive on Rumania and Hungary.

Big bombers, medium bombers and strafing fighter planes all participated in the Allied aerial attacks on France, the Lowlands and Germany, with rail communications leading to the invasion coast and airports and aircraft factories the principal targets. In one 36-hour period alone, Allied aviators made no less than 6,000 individual flights over the west.

Axis counterattacks in the Balkans took form as the Russians advanced on Carpathian mountain passes leading into the rolling Hungarian plains, and other Red forces threatened the rich Rumanian oil fields around Ploesti. In the Crimean peninsula jutting into the Black sea, Russian forces laid siege to the big naval base of Sevastopol, where Axis troops flocked after a lengthy retreat.

Demand Loyalty

As western Europe cracked under the Allies' savage bombing offensive to clear the invasion path, Nazi No. 2 Hermann Goering and Nazi No. 3 Joseph Goebbels used Hitler's 55th birthday to loudly appeal to the German people for unquestioned loyalty during the hectic period to follow.

Said Goering: "A thousand dangers may lie ahead . . . New anxieties and burdens may prove inevitable . . . No sacrifice and no privation should be too great to make for Germany . . . Our gift to the fuhrer is our vow not to lay down arms until we have assured the Reich's future."

Said Goebbels: ". . . Even the greatest leaders of history will be faced with occasional setbacks and defeats . . . It will not be possible to form an accurate and just idea of the individual war events and factors which have been decisive in the war until the war is over . . . So to serve our aims means to be loyal to the fuhrer and to follow him through all the storms of war . . ."

FOREIGN HOLDINGS: U. S. Stake

After a canvass of more than 200,000 individuals, estates and trusts, and 16,000 business firms, the U. S. Treasury established American holdings in more than 50 foreign countries at $13,300,000,000.

Although two-thirds of the holdings of household goods, bonds and factories are in Allied or friendly nations, U. S. national's stake in Axis or occupied countries totals $3,775,000,000, of which $1,290,000,000 is in Germany, $265,000,000 in Italy, $90,000,000 in Japan, $65,000,000 in Rumania and $55,000,000 in Hungary.

By far the largest U. S. investments are in Canada, aggregating $4,375,000,000 and holdings in Great Britain total $1,030,000,000. Investments in Cuba amount to $785,000,000; Mexico, $420,000,000; Argentina, $355,000,000, and Brazil, $330,000,000.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

PROFITS: The meat packing industry had a net income of only 1.1 per cent on sales in 1943, the lowest for any major manufacturing industry, the American Meat Institute reports.

BANANAS: Shortage of shipping between South American and United States ports is seriously handicapping importation of bananas, trade officials say.

MANPOWER:

Biggest Problem

During 1944, manpower and not material will constitute the biggest obstacles to resumption of the production of civilian goods, the War Production board's planning and statistical chief, Stacy May, revealed.

Although reductions in certain munitions programs may reach considerable proportions toward the end of 1944, the question of converting facilities to the manufacture of civilian goods will revolve around the army's call for manpower for casualty replacements, May said. Because of declines in construction employment and increasing efficiency in factories, however, more workers may be made available for consumer goods, May declared.

Sufficient steel, aluminum and copper probably could be obtained for civilian production later in the year, May said, but shortages of necessary parts or accessories might form serious bottlenecks.

PACIFIC:

Raid Treasure-House

Storehouse for Japanese oil, tin and rubber, the Dutch East Indies were hit by British bombers for the first time in nearly a year and a half, with docks, warehouses and shipping left in flames in the northern end of the islands.

While the bombers whacked at this treasure-house of natural resources which have fed the Japs' industrial sinews of war, British and Indian troops continued their desperate defense of the Bengal-Assam railroad in eastern India, feeding U. S. and Chinese forces hacking out a supply road to China in northern Burma.

In the South Pacific area, U. S. army and navy bombers teamed up to plaster the Japs' Caroline islands, gateway to the inner approaches of the enemy's principal Asiatic holdings.

AGRICULTURE: Machinery

Because of the necessity of stepping up production of landing barges and other invasion craft demanding critical material, farm machinery output this year may not reach expected levels, War Food Administrator Marvin Jones revealed.

Although too early to make predictions, Jones said, machinery output should exceed 1940 figures. None has been allocated to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration or for export, he said.

As of April 1, Jones revealed, machinery production totaled 36,000 combines, 9,000 balers, 23,000 side rakes, 44,000 spreaders, 121,000 tractors and 15,000 cornpickers.

Labor

At a time when Selective Service was tightening up on farm deferments, the U. S. department of agriculture reported that farm workers as of April 1 totaled 9,080,000, or about 228,000 less than a year ago.

With a better organized farm labor program and seasonal help from volunteer workers, however, the USDA expected rural America to meet this year's expanded food goals despite the inroads into help.

Although only 2 per cent lower than April, 1943, the farm labor supply was 54 per cent of the pre-war average, the USDA declared.

HERO: In a curious case of a marine hero, who is also a deserter from the marines and the army, First Class Private William B. Murphy of Tennessee left the army after nearly six years of service and then joined the marines to win the navy cross as a member of Carlson's Raiders. Walking away from a marine hospital, he was later detained and held for discipline.

Backstage Scenes With 'Prisoners of War'

(1) German prisoners of war have their own band at Fort Dix, N. J. Here they play overture to play staged by other "P of Ws." (2) A scene from the play "Froh und Heiter" (Bright and Gay). Scenery and costumes are the work of the prisoners made from waste material during their spare time. (3) A scene in the kitchen of the prisoners' mess hall showing them preparing the evening meal for their fellow Nazis. These men appear anything but unhappy.

Navy Crewmen Find Antidote for Battle Strain

Once the business of conquering Roi island was completed, these crewmen of a United States navy aircraft carrier take the antidote for post-battle nervous strain by an invigorating swim in the warm waters of a lagoon in the Marshalls. After the heat of battle a dip is a soothing tonic for the nerves, the men declare.

French and English Generals in Italy

General Juin, commander of the French Expeditionary corps in Italy; General Leese, commander of the Eighth army; and Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, commander in chief of the Allied forces in Italy, are shown engaged in conversation when General Alexander paid a visit to the Eighth's headquarters.

Principal in Sedition Trial

A principal in the biggest sedition trial of this war, Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling of Chicago, appears quite unconcerned before the camera. She is shown here with her daughter, Elizabeth Joan, and her ex-husband, Albert Dilling, who acted as her counsel at District court trial in Washington. Mrs. Dilling, along with 29 others, is accused of conspiracy.

He Missed the Boat

Coastguardsmen heave a line from their destroyer and haul in a mid-Atlantic swimmer who missed his boat—badly! Repatriated seaman Earl N. Phillips tumbled from one ship in a west-bound convoy and was picked up half an hour later by the coast guard.

Betty Gets Medal

Swimmer Betty Shields of New York is presented a medal by Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio. The award was made at Oakland, Calif., where Betty placed second in the 100-yard backstroke event.

Two More Ears
One morning some university students brought a donkey into the lecture room.
"Take your seats, gentlemen," said the professor. "I see there's one more of you this morning."

Suppose they call them "song hits" because they'd never be missed.

Mistaken
Under the soothing effects of the moonlight the feminine half of the party thought she'd try to "make it up" after the tiff.
So she laid her head on the young man's shoulder and sighed: "Dearest, don't harden your heart against me!"
"That isn't my heart," he replied as he gently moved her an inch or two to the east, "that's my cigarette-case."

You've heard about the little chick who was naughty. After one of his pranks, his mother said to him, "If your father could see you now, he'd turn over in his grave."

"If you hadn't rushed me so," he countered, "we wouldn't have had hours to wait for the next!"

Making Sure
"I want to ask you something in confidence," began Jones, as Smith and he lingered at the bar. "Right! What is it?"
"Well, Robinson wants to borrow $5 from me. Is he good for that amount?"
"Yes, with proper securities."
"What do you suggest?" asked Jones.
"A strong chain and padlock, a pair of handcuffs and a watchdog."

THE CITY OF SAN DIEGO

Office of
DE GRAFF AUSTIN
Councilman

San Diego, California

May 2nd, 1944.

EDITOR, OCEAN BEACH NEWS,
Ocean Beach, California.

DEAR SIR:

In your "guest editorial" of last week by one of the candidates for County Supervisor in which is discussed the progress toward the building of the jetty at the entrance to Mission Bay it is stated, "several years ago the State Park Commission set aside $50,000 to be matched by another $50,000 to be put up by the City of San Diego. It appears the latter has been most negligent in wanting this work to go ahead, possibly because certain officials have no interest here . . . in this instance, if the councilmen representing these areas, as well as the city council as a whole, do not see fit to proceed towards fulfillment of this improvement, the county board of supervisors should match this project."

The above quotation so completely misses the truth, so entirely ignores what has been done on this project that I believe you should publish the following progress report for the benefit of your readers.

1. In September 1942 a committee of the City Council, consisting of Harley Knox, Fred Simpson and De Graff Austin consulted with Office of Army Engineers in Los Angeles and were assured by that office that any proposed jetty to control or regulate the Mission Bay entrance channel would have to be designed by them, and that there was little likelihood of this being done by the U. S. Army Engineers while they were engaged in fighting a war.

2. Ordinance No. 2711, City of S. D., was adopted on September 7th, 1943, which appropriated $50,000 for the purpose of building such jetty and other beach erosion control appurtenances and the money is and has been in the hands of the State of California for the erection of this particular project.

3. The City of San Diego has by engineering survey established a new mean high tide line between the bluffs at the foot of Niagara street and the Mission Bay bridge. This work has been completed.

4. Because the new tide line indicates that several parcels of ocean area, seaward from the line and now under water are shown in the subdivision maps as being building sites and privately owned, the City of San Diego is now suing to quiet title and acquire same for the city so that all the ocean area will be public domain.

In short, everything legally and humanly possible has been done by the City of San Diego to complete the project to control erosion and set up a public recreational area for the entire beach from Niagara street to Mission Bay channel. The article of last week is particularly shallow, in my estimation, because, even if the City of San Diego had been direct in its duty toward this improvement there is no process of county law by which this same improvement could be made.

In the interest of truth, even in a political campaign, I remain, yours most respectfully,

—DE GRAFF AUSTIN.

DISTRICT No. 7
Bayview 6101

Well, here we are in the month of May and coming up is our local regular monthly meeting at the Assembly of God church, corner of Cape May and Ebers, on Monday, May 8th, at 1:30. Let's make an effort to attend this meeting. Several women from our district were awarded their service ribbon by Vice-Admiral Blakeley at the central committee meeting for having completed 500 or more hours up to Aug., 1943. Congratulations to those who have received them and may we ask that they come to our meeting on Monday in order that others, who have also completed 500 or more hours, may see the ribbon they will receive. These service ribbons are being awarded at the central committee meeting, and as only a certain number can be presented at each meeting, a number of women are picked from each district every month. Those who have sent in their number of hours will be notified when the presentation will be made. There are still many women who have the required number of hours, but have not as yet sent them in, please send in your letter stating the number of hours served.

With reference to the canning information we promised to give you, we regret that we haven't been able to get any definite word, but as soon as we do, we will publish it.

We see several women are still sewing as we have received some lap robes and slippers. Even though we do not mention the lap robes and slippers every week, the need for them is still present and as soon as you have finished these articles send them.

Give Government Back To The People

James B. Abbey
for Congress

— Jefferson —
A Democrat and 100% American

A century ago Thomas Jefferson, a Democrat, laid down the principle of States' Rights. He believed that the business of governing the people should be done by States and local governments; that the Federal government should confine its attention to strictly national affairs, such as regulating currency, conducting wars, regulating foreign trade and relations, carrying the mail, etc.

The Democratic party under New Deal leadership has thrown the Jeffersonian principle overboard, and is striving to centralize vast governmental powers in Washington, D.C.

Home Rule by states, cities and counties will gradually disappear unless an aroused nation calls a halt to bureaucratic government.

The time is NOW. The way to accomplish it is to elect Congressmen who will fight to give government back to the people.

Dear Mrs. Pitcock:
The Camp and Hospital service of San Diego Chapter American Red Cross thanks you and your group for making the curtains for one of our day rooms. They were beautifully done and we want you to know how much we appreciate your help. The men of our armed forces will be grateful we know.

San Diego 7, Calif.

My dear Mrs. Pitcock:
Recently we have received 52½ dozen cookies, a birthday box, and one special box which were distributed to the different wards in Balboa park extension of Naval hospital. This generous donation of cookies was a great treat to patients who have just arrived from the war zone.

The special box was given to a very sick marine who has just returned from overseas and was terribly home-sick. The birthday box was given to a young sailor on his 18th birthday. Our hearty thanks to all who helped in this contribution.

Cordially yours,
—NELLE R. BOUD
(Mrs.) Nellie R. Boud
Field Director.

Miss Nye of Camp and Hospital has appealed for large metal shakers, with handles, which will be used to shake powder on wounds; also glass custard cups to be used in the hospital.

All kinds of musical instruments are wanted badly, especially harmonicas. If they are not in A-1 condition do not hesitate to bring them for they will be repaired at Red Cross headquarters.

Bicycles are badly needed at hospital to be used in exercising the convalescent boys' legs. Remember, new bicycles are very scarce which explains why this appeal is made to the general public. If you are unable to bring any of these things to your local Red Cross let us know and we will try to arrange some way to get them. These men fighting for our freedom, are our men and we can never do enough to repay them.

Your local Red Cross center at 4769 Del Monte will be open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each week day except Saturday. We will be closed all day Saturday and Sunday. We will appreciate all our workers cooperating with us.

We have wool for navy sweaters and gloves, also grey socks. These articles are needed now for it is beginning to be very cold in the Aleutians—Jeep robes are badly needed and remember, you receive 20 points credit on your time for each robe. For those who sew we have bed-jackets, utility bags, baby blankets and hospital gowns. The bed-jackets are of double-faced outing flannel and very simple to make.

Don't forget your services are badly needed at all surgical dressing rooms.

Have you made your appointment for giving your blood at the Blood Donor center? If not, call Franklin 7704. The address is 446 W. Beech st., San Diego, Calif.

Mason Says Beaches Assets of City and County

The following statement by Harrison W. Mason, candidate for supervisor in the First San Diego district, was issued to the Ocean Beach News this week. It relates to the Ocean Beach jetty project.

APRIL 24, 1944.

EDITOR HARTVIGSEN,
OCEAN BEACH NEWS.
MY DEAR EDITOR:

I noticed recently in your valued publication, a story relating to the long-delayed jetty project in Mission Bay outlet.

In part it read: "Several years ago the State Park commission set aside $50,000 to be matched by another $50,000 to be put up by the city of San Diego. It appears the latter has been most negligent in wanting this work to go ahead, possibly because certain officials have no interest here."

Regarding this matter, I wish to point out that development of our great beach recreational centers is of large interest to both city and county. The great ocean beach areas are among our most prized assets, and they should be constantly developed, and tax money used for that purpose.

In this instance, if the councilmen representing these areas, as well as the city council as a whole, do not see fit to proceed towards fulfillment of this improvement, that the county board of supervisors, being the highest legislative body in city and county, should match this project.

AS SUPERVISOR OF THE FIRST SAN DIEGO DISTRICT, I WOULD ADVOCATE ACTION IN THIS MATTER AT THE VERY EARLIEST. IMPROVEMENT FOR AREAS SUCH AS THE ONE MENTIONED IS OF IMPORTANCE TO EVERY MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD IN THE WHOLE OF SAN DIEGO CITY AND COUNTY.

Very sincerely yours,

—HARRISON W. MASON,
Candidate for Supervisor First District, San Diego, and Editor-Publisher San Diego North-eastern Examiner.

P.S.: Looking over recent issues of the Ocean Beach News, with a critical eye as I am a publisher myself, I hope the business men and citizens of your section appreciate the splendid news and advertising service your publication is quite apparently accomplishing. The Ocean Beach News is indeed a credit to the community newspaper profession of San Diego.

U. S. Farm Expert Gives Friendly Advice to China

Department of Agriculture Officials Visit Chinese, Suggest Practical Methods Of Increasing Food Production.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, Union Trust Building
Washington, D. C.

Out in Falls Church, Virginia, a little way from Washington, there lives a friend of mine who was brought up on a farm. Last year, some new neighbors moved in next door — city folks, you could tell by looking at them, but full of pep and vinegar and very patriotic. They started out to make a victory garden.

My friend could tell by the way they handled their toes that before long, they'd be asking him for advice.

He's a good neighbor, but he isn't nosey. So he just waited.

Well, it wasn't long before the man next door came up, leaned over the fence, and said: "How is it your garden is coming along so good and mine ain't?"

My friend smiled, and then he pitched in and told him some of the facts of plant life.

It isn't going to benefit my friend even if his neighbor's garden is a record breaker but he's a typical American and he's doing what we all used to do back in the old days when neighbor depended on neighbor — giving a helping hand when it is needed.

Last week, I sat down across the desk from a big, black-haired fellow, who looks a lot younger than he is in years and wisdom. His name is Dr. Ralph W. Phillips.

When I talked with him, he had just returned from giving a little neighborly advice over the back fence to our Chinese neighbors. He's in charge of genetics investigations for the Department of Agriculture and he was loaned to the State department, along with some 21 other experts, to go over to China (at the invitation of the Chinese) to look around and see what ought to be done to improve their stock.

For you and me and most Americans, even those who don't know any more about a farm than to think "shorts" are just underwear, a cow that doesn't give milk wouldn't be much of a critter. But believe it or not, one of the results which it is hoped Dr. Phillips' trip will achieve is to explain to the Chinese why cows have udders.

First-Hand Facts

The Chinese know many things which we don't know, but Phillips has put between the covers of a book now being printed in China, a lot of things that the Chinese never knew before. He got his facts first hand, traveling over most of the unoccupied parts of China with the Chinese Minister of Agriculture and a good interpreter, and collated them against his own expert knowledge of animal husbandry. But as he said to me, if you know anything about a cow, a sheep or a horse, you don't need an interpreter to tell you what's the matter with it.

It was a hot day in Washington when I interviewed Dr. Phillips and he had his coat and vest off.

"I'm a shirtsleeve diplomat," he said to me.

When I learned a little more of the details of his particular job, I realized that it was one in which you had to take off your coat and roll up your sleeves. Among other things, he rode several hundred miles over what the Chinese laughingly call roads, in ancient automobiles, and a good many miles on the back of a very tough Mongolian pony.

This friendly, easy-going shirt-sleeve scientist typifies a new order — he is part of a new, honest effort (as one member of the State department said to me) "to establish a relationship of people to people" rather than a relationship of diplomat to diplomat, or government to government.

Dr. Phillips witnessed the effects of the great migration of the Chinese government followed by its universities, its people, its industries. This great movement, enforced by the Japanese occupation, opened up vast territory in western and northwestern China about which very little was known and with which the rulers of China heretofore have been very little concerned. For the sake of this discussion, China can be roughly divided into two quite different agricultural domains. In the crowded eastern provinces, small farming and very small farming, indeed, is the chief activity. In the west, there are great grasslands better adapted to the raising of stock.

Animal husbandry in China must meet one immediate problem, and that is, increasing and improving production in the western part of the country and breeding for re-stocking in the areas which will be re-occupied when the Japanese are driven out.

The heavy demands for food by the American military, to say nothing of China's own soldiers, make it necessary for the Chinese to increase food production to the utmost. At present, however, Dr. Phillips reported that except for the famine areas where drought or insects have affected the crops, the Chinese people have more food available than is popularly believed.

But they aren't making the most of their cows and pigs and chickens.

As to the Chinese cow, about which Dr. Phillips spoke with great feeling, one of the first things to do is to teach the Chinese peasant that it gives milk and that milk is a pretty good food. And then to improve the breed so that it will give milk. At present, the cow is a beast of burden, a draft animal. However, it isn't even as good a draft animal as it could be. It will not be difficult to improve the breed so that it will be more efficient as a beast of burden and as a milk giver at the same time.

Of course, the Nomadic people who live on the great plains of northern China, who live from their herds, use the milk as food, mostly dried in the form of casein. They also store butter. They have the yak and a hybrid animal, a cross between a yak and a cow, which is called a "pian-niu."

The chickens in China aren't much to crow about either, I take it, from Dr. Phillips' description. If they lay only 50 to 60 eggs a year, nobody complains. There, too, breeding from selected types that China already has would be a great help.

Dr. Phillips likes the Chinese donkeys and in spite of personal experiences on their backs, thinks Mongolian horses have possibilities. Very good mules are produced by crossing the Mongolian mare and the donkey. But the Mongolian horse is a little, tough-mouthed, flat-withered, crooked-legged animal which could be greatly improved with inter-breeding with a good saddle horse strain.

No Ordered Effort

Dr. Phillips had first-hand experience with these little animals whose ancestors were tough enough to carry Ghangis Khan across Asia but are too tough to follow the bridle if they get other ideas.

Up until now, there seems to have been no ordered effort by the representatives of any other foreign country to assist in the improvement of Chinese livestock. Missionaries here and there have introduced better grades which have had an influence in the immediate vicinity. German missionaries brought in some nice fat pigs. Others introduced good chickens and cows. But these were only a drop in the bucket.

The Chinese Department of Agriculture itself is a new thing and has very little background of training or experience. Perhaps the one most important influence has been the exchange established between Cornell University and the University in Nanking. A number of experts in agriculture have been trained at Cornell and have gone back to China.

Naturally with such a large proportion of the population illiterate, it will be exceedingly difficult to spread the information even when the Chinese leaders themselves are trained.

The present Chinese government, despite the fact that almost every ounce of energy has to be turned toward fighting the war, has shown an interest evidenced by the welcome reception given the various American representatives, and the United States on its side has sought to improve its relations between people and extend its influence by this activity which is a part of the cultural relations program.

Smart Apparel, Household Items Can Be Made From Cotton Bags

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

IT'S IN the bag, that new smock you need or pretty pinafore you covet, or a sun-suit for little sister. The bag is the same cotton bag that holds your flour, sugar, salt and other such commodities as are packaged in cotton.

One of the most fascinating and thrifty hobbies imaginable is this of creating, not several, but hundreds of attractive and useful household items and articles of apparel from cotton bags. It adds to the fun of converting bags into smartly wearable clothes if you keep a stock of gay rick-rack braid and colorful bolt-fast threads and yarns on hand just to give an extra flourish of trimming and embroidery touches to the garments you make. There is no limit to the intriguing accents that can be given to your chic bag fashions, and at such a trifling cost, too. Then too, you can inject real drama into the bag-sewing program by dyeing some of the cotton squares in gay Mexican blues and reds, yellows and purples. Make these up into picturesque peasant dirndl skirts and dresses that are worked out in striking color contrast.

Best of all is the patriotic spirit you show when you salvage fabrics. The housewife who converts cotton bags into the many useful items they are capable of becoming under the magic of willing hands and minds not only serves herself but conserves essential fabrics for her country.

Under the slogan that "a yard saved is a yard gained for victory," the Textile Bag Manufacturers association has prepared a 32-page booklet "A Bag of Tricks for Home Sewing." This free booklet presents practical ways in which bags can be used to make decorative pieces for home, clothes for the family and very pretty costume accessories.

For the charming dress sketched above to the left in the illustration, the designer uses the bag fabric in its natural color, highlighting it with gaily colorful rick-rack used to trim the low-cut U-neckline, the front opening, the pockets and the sleeves.

The attractive pinafore centered at the top is made of unbleached bags. You can either hem this apron all around or pipe it with bright colored cotton bias tape-binding such as is available at all notion counters for a few cents outlay. To give it extra fillup, trim it with an applique of flower motifs cut from bright cotton print. You can buy packaged assortments of cutout cotton figures and you'll find them a source of joy as they can be used to trim in so many effective ways.

The dress to the right demonstrates convincingly what smart fashions can be turned out of the unbleached cotton bags. Gay colored accents can be added, such as contrast piping or multi-colored rick-rack also the new green, red, blue and yellow plastic buttons which are being used in rotation. Contrast bodice tops are excellent style and this same model could be made up in this way. Here's where the bags dyed in high colors can be made to yield new glamour. Dye up some of the bags you have on hand, you'll be surprised how effectively they work into the scheme of things.

The adorable little play dress below to the left with rick-rack trim is pretty enough to set any little girl's heart all a flutter. The youngster to the right in the little sun-suit and matching bonnet is due for applause at any style show. Note the bolero, the bag and the weskit and the bridge luncheon set, each of which is made of cotton bags. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Print Accents

A new style technique that offers endless possibilities is that of using print for matching accessories and as accent to the costume itself. We used to think that a print blouse was the whole story but now in order to make news a print blouse must be teamed with something else made of the same pattern. In this instance a blouse is accompanied by gloves of the same print. To further unify the costume the wool suit has inserts at the shoulders of the same silk and rayon polka dot that makes the blouse and the gloves.

Taffeta Accessories Set Off Basic Suit

If you have a basic suit—bolero and cardigan types are smartest this season—or a simple long-torso black gown, you have achieved a perfect foundation for the new taffeta accessories that are so swaggy. It's the newest of fashion gestures to brighten your simple suits and dresses with splurges of striking plaid, check or stripe taffeta. You can make an old garment look new by adding these dramatic taffeta accents. You can buy such intriguing items as a weskit of Roman stripe, the stripes made up horizontally with tailored bows, used instead of button fastenings. Then there is the modish sun-back sleeveless blouse made of bold taffeta check having a huge bow-tie at the neckline, the whole affair cut on the bias. Most sensational of all are gloves and bags made of taffeta matched to the hat.

You Can Be Either Formal Or Informal in Gingham

You can dress up or down to occasion in gingham. If it's formality you seek wear a black and white check gingham, which has a yoke of low-cut decolletage also a gypsy scarf about the hips worked with glittering black beads. With your sports slacks wear a gingham cowboy shirt in vivid colors. You will like the new gingham accessories that are being worn with suits and dresses this summer. Hats, bags and gloves made of gingham have high fashion rank this season. You'll love these gay fabrics fit for all occasions this season.

Sicily Operations

In operations in Sicily we lost 13 per cent of all the 155 mm. howitzers we landed, 46 per cent of all 57 mm. guns, 36 per cent of the motor carriages for our 75 mm. guns, 22 per cent of the carriages for our 105 mm. howitzers, and 54 per cent of the carriages for our 37 mm. guns. We also lost 7 per cent of our light tanks; 8 per cent of our medium tanks. We lost nearly 13 per cent of our 37 mm. guns.

Tasty Flavoring

From peppermint and spearmint are distilled the aromatic oils prized for flavoring candies, chewing gum, toothpastes, jellies, liqueurs and medicines. Spearmint is the popular mint of suburban kitchen gardens, used to make mint sauce and to adorn and flavor summer drinks. Japanese mint, wherever it is grown (including California), is inferior for flavoring but contains more crystallizable menthol, used in medicines for colds and in "cooled" cigarettes.

Mark Hanna

Marcus A. Hanna, born in 1837 at New Lisbon, Ohio, became one of the most colorful political leaders of his time. As chairman of the Republican national committee in 1896, he conducted the presidential campaign for William McKinley, and later for Theodore Roosevelt. Hanna, as head of the M. A. Hanna company, operating a steamship and coal business out of Cleveland, Ohio, pioneered the use of steel-hulled steamships on the Great Lakes. In 1897 Hanna was appointed U. S. senator to succeed John Sherman. He was elected in 1898, and again in 1904, the year of his death. Hanna also was president of the Union National Bank of Cleveland and the Cleveland City Railway company.

Many Mountain Streams

Aid Chile's Electrification
Chile's announcement of a national electrification project to be completed in 18 years draws attention to the country's favorable topographic situation with regard to water power development. Many rivers are born on the lofty slopes of the Andes highlands, furrow swiftly westward across the country to Pacific outlets, form a many-ringed water ladder with its top near the Peruvian border and its bottom close to the Straits of Magellan.

Power from these rivers would assure progressive industrial development, conserve the domestic coal reserves, and activate the country's dormant resources.

Water, apart from its conversion into kilowatts, has greatly influenced Chilean life. The sea modifies the extremes of climate, changes the course of ships by the strong "set" of the mighty Humboldt Current, shapes plans and fortunes by its winds and tides and fogs, is the source of a sizable fishing and whaling industry, and provides routes for the shipment of strategic materials. It gives Chile access to foreign sources for needed machinery, textiles and oil, and sustains valuable coastwise trade.

Illinois Court Trying

New Divorce Procedure
The Cook county (Chicago) circuit court is using the pre-trial conference method of settling contested divorce cases as a step toward clearing calendars for an expected postwar rush.

Primary purpose of the pre-trial conferences is not reconciliation but a settlement of financial differences that will permit cases to be heard as a default—when one person withdraws to permit granting of an uncontested divorce.

Nearly all cases are past the reconciliation stage when they enter court, according to Circuit Judge Robert Jerome Dunne, who is using the pre-trial conference method in an effort to speed up action on a steadily mounting number of cases.

The procedure is for Judge Dunne to call both parties and their lawyers to his chambers for a discussion as soon as a case is put on the contested calendar, according to information to the American Municipal association.

After determining that reconciliation is impossible, the judge inquires into the financial situation of the couple and generally suggests a lump sum payment in lieu of alimony for the wife.

QUEENS DIE PROUDLY

by W. L. White W.N.U. FEATURES

THE STORY THUS FAR: Lieut. Col. Frank Kurtz, pilot of a Flying Fortress, tells of that fatal day when the Japs struck in the Philippines. Eight of his men were killed fleeing for shelter, and Old 99, with many other Fortresses, was demolished on the ground. After escaping to Australia, what is left of the squadron flies to Java, where they go on many missions over the Philippines and Macassar Strait. Sgt. Boone, gunner, tells how Queens die. Nine Forts are out looking for Jap carriers when they meet a flight of "P-40's" who fly with them. Too late they discover the forged stars. The "P-40's"—Jap planes—open up at close range on the Forts and three Queens go down in flames.

CHAPTER XV

"When that chute cracked open, the jerk pitched him out of the harness head-first, and as the chute billowed loosely back of the plane's tail, we saw him dropping down with his clothes smoking, getting littler and littler. Oh, Heaven! I couldn't look any more.

"The plane was settling faster, in that steepening curve now, because it was all over. So we who have seen a Fortress die in battle can tell you how they do it. They die like the men who fly them and fight in them would want them to die! They die like the great Sky Queens they are. And Queens die proudly.

"Just then I heard our pilot Captain Strother over the interphones, telling Jim Worley, our bombardier, that he'd opened the bomb-bay doors, and for the bombardier to go back and salvo all the bombs and the gas tanks carried there.

"Well, Jim Worley is about to obey, but just then he sees a Zero coming right in on us, head-on—and his gun there in the nose is the only one who can handle this attack, so he's got to stay on it.

"He gives her one burst and then starts to salvo his bombs and gas tanks, but there's a crashing sound, and the controls don't work. He doesn't realize a bullet has wrecked his controls—doesn't know what has happened.

"Then all of a sudden—Bang!—there's a hell of an explosion inside our plane, and dust, and the stink of gasoline. After seeing what had just happened to the other two planes, we thought it could mean only one thing. We must be on fire! And later on, ask me about that railroad spike.

"But somehow there were no flames, so we kept on pounding away at the Zeros swarming around us—it was the only thing to do. What had happened was that a bullet had smashed into our compressed-oxygen tank, and also cut a gasoline feed line, so that gas was spurting all over the cabin, but we didn't know it then. Finally the tail gunner, seeing gas streaming along the plane's belly past him to trickle off the tip of the tail, guessed what had happened, and called out to the rest of us over the interphones for God's sake not to smoke. With that cabin filled with pure oxygen and gasoline fumes, it would have been a bad idea. Don't forget to ask me about that railroad spike.

"When we got back to our field and were telling about it, someone asked our tail gunner if he wasn't scared when, right after watching those other two go down in flames, that bullet burst our oxygen system with a big bang. 'No,' he said, 'there wasn't time to be scared. But if someone had pushed a railroad spike into my mouth, I would have bit the head of it off, clean and sharp.'

"The Flying Fortress was designed for the high skies, and if you keep her in her groove, for her crew and for her enemies the most deadly. We found this out not from any book, but we learned it that day in combat, which is learning it the hard way. And we hoped it wouldn't take too long for this lesson to percolate upstairs."

"On the way home," said Frank Kurtz, "three of the remaining Forts hit a heavy afternoon rainstorm. Visibility and ceiling were zero, and for hours they flew around the island of Madura, off the coast of Java, looking for a place to land. When gas was almost gone they decided to beach them. Luckily no one was killed, but two of the three were completely washed out on the seashore rocks—they set fire to the wreckage so the Japs couldn't find out anything about the planes. But Lieutenant Fred Crimmons did a magnificent job of setting his plane down on the beach in the rain. He made two passes, looking at his gas in between, then squared away and brought her in—she held firm, sinking only a little. I had the harbor-master's wrecking barge, with tools and Dutch engineers, on its way before daylight. They were having a little trouble with the natives there—they were warned against Jap parachutists, and our boys had to yell at them a password the Dutch had taught them to use if we were shot down: 'Kancha Kompaneel!' It means 'Our Army,' they explained to us.

"They worked a full day—shoring up the plane, building a base of logs and sand under it, clearing a runway strip. And then, in Java's regular afternoon rainstorm, in came old Freddy onto Surabaya Field. He explained he'd stripped the plane of everything he could un-screw to lighten it and then, turning the motors on full blast, had made a jump take-off from that little strip. He grabbed a sandwich and went on in to Malang.

"The air-raid alarm in Surabaya was now going off regularly, sometimes three times a day, because the Java Sea was stiffer than an old sock with Jap carriers. Colonel Eubank was now faced with a real problem. The three main bases for our Forts were at Malang, Madiun and another town which was spelled Jokyakarta, but the American boys couldn't chew this one, so they all gave it up and everybody just called it Jockstrap.

"The Dutch had no system to detect planes coming in from over the sea. Their only warning system was a tiny island about seventy-five miles out. It had a radio, so Surabaya got fifteen minutes' notice and Malang about thirty.

"So what was the Colonel to do? Our P-40's were badly overworked, so when the alarm sounded, if the Forts took to the air the Zeros might shoot them down, while if they stayed on the ground, the Jap bombers might blow them up. Never were we able to keep more than twelve planes in the air, even including reinforcements, for we were losing them about as fast as they were coming in, and a number were always under repair and therefore un-flyable.

"Also we had some bad breaks in luck. One afternoon Lieutenant Ray Cox had his plane up on a high-altitude test—giving the superchargers a workout. With him in the cockpit was Johnny Hughes, who had been checked off as a first pilot. Just after we arrived in Java. They finished the test, and at two o'clock were spiraling down when Zeros came over to strafe the field below. These strafing Zeros also had a top cover of Zeros hanging up at 18,000 feet, in case our P-40's might come in to break up their ground party.

"Well, when the strafing began, our boys in the control tower remembered that Ray was up, and they tried to tell him by radio to fly south over the sea for an hour, until the Zeros were gone—that was our usual procedure.

"But Ray and Johnny, alone in this plane, probably intent on their test, must have had their headphones off. Anyway they couldn't be reached, although the boys on the ground tried frantically to let them know what they were coming down into. Finally they saw three Zeros hit them at 15,000 feet. Ray immediately turned out to sea, while Johnny probably did what he could on the guns. But one gunner can't cover every side at once, and they didn't stand a chance against three Zeros. Next day the plane was found shot down and burned about twenty miles from Malang Field."

"Shortly after that," said Boone, the gunner, "we had a tough little mission—a night flight to bomb a Jap task force which was attacking one of the islands down toward Australia. I forget which one it was, but I ever knew—that was the navigator's business. Six of us took off from Malang, but before we started for the target, we had to fly over to Jockstrap and load up with Dutch bombs—they were running low at Malang, and the Dutch at Jockstrap had plenty. Then we took off at eight o'clock at night in some of the dirtiest weather I ever hope to fly. In that country a storm at night is so black it's like going into the closet under the stairs where all the old overshoes are, and pulling the door shut. For our rendezvous we turned on the wing lights. But even with them it took us forty-five minutes to assemble. Then we went up to 18,000 trying to climb out, but we were still in that storm.

It was darker than the inside of a black cow, but every now and then the lightning would rip everything wide open—the whole cloud around us would flame up, and you could see to read fine print in the cabin. We were like a bug in a neon tube. Then blackness would close in, and it would be a long time before your eyes could make out the little blue-pink exhaust flame of the plane next to you.

"After about an hour we had plowed through the storm, and were flying above scattered moon-flecked overcast down below us at about 4,000.

"At 10:30 we were over the target, and we glided down to 3,000 feet to see what was going on. Through the hunk of clouds we could see the gun flashes of Jap warships lobbing shells into that poor old town. Then we would see the flash when the shells exploded. They had fires already going in several places, and of course the town had absolutely nothing to hit back with.

"But clouds protected the Jap fleet, so we couldn't make a run on just where we guessed those gun flashes were the thickest. Bombs were scarce. Orders had been if we didn't find a good target, to bring them home, so we did. We had no flares aboard to light up that harbor, or any installation for dropping them. The old Forts were never cut out for nightwork, but of course in a war you sometimes get into cracks where you use whatever you've got to do what must be done.

"We hated it, leaving that poor old town burning while the Japs sat out there and tossed shells into her, without giving it even a little help—but it had to be.

"On our return we found that storm had moved on down Java and was squatting right on Malang Field. The turf was soaked into apple jelly, and our pilot did a wonderful job on the landing. We were worried, because we knew that a single pound weight on the brakes would start our twenty-five tons sliding over that slippery field like it was the frozen surface of a pond. So to keep from piling up in a crash at the end of the runway (remember, we had all our bombs aboard and couldn't dump them because they were precious), our pilot ground-looped her, so she would start sliding sideways in that muck. Skidding along, he waited until she had revolved in a 180-degree turn and was sliding backward. Of course she would then have crashed tail-first into the end of the field and blown up all of us, but he was able to stop her by gunning the motors. Even if the wheels couldn't bite into that slippery ground, the propellers could bite the air. It was neat.

"Another gripe we had on Malang Field was the food. The mess was in charge of the Dutch. They served only one hot meal a day, and this was always at noon—usually hot soup with boiled beef and potatoes. But I only got to eat this hot noon meal three times—I was always out on missions, which should give some idea how busy we were.

"They had baskets of food for us to take up in the plane—pineapples, tropical fruit, and then sandwiches which were either a slab of cheese, or else raw bacon, in between two thick hunks of bread. We found this heavy stuff made gas in your intestines and just as you got to high altitude going over the target, this gas swelled up, giving you the gripes. So we'd eat the fruit and throw the sandwiches away.

"Also Malay cooks don't know hot food—the breakfast soft-boiled eggs were always hard, and they'd bring out a No. 10 can of jam for a hundred and fifty men. What with getting two or three hours' sleep a night, we all lost weight—two of us lost nineteen pounds and Charlie lost twenty-three, and it wasn't scared off us, either.

"We all felt that with a decent meal we could do a lot more. So as much as we needed sleep, at eight or nine o'clock at night we'd take the Dutch bus into town to a restaurant owned by a Javanese, which had a Dutch waitress who spoke English, just to buy us a thick, rare steak. Americans have got to have red meat to fight on. Give them that and they'll manage to sleep when they can.

"We finally took over the mess, but that didn't help much, because by then the field was being bombed regularly. The mess sergeant had his kitchen blown up three times in a single day, and this didn't improve the flavor of things. But the worst thing was, he'd got hold of three truckloads of Reigel pale beer, and had the cases neatly stacked when a Jap bomb scored a direct hit, leaving it never more than three dozen bottles. I never saw men any madder than we were when we came out of our foxholes and word went around they had blown up our beer."

"They'd moved us over to Madiun Field," said the Bombardier, "and we had your troubles and some more besides. When we first arrived there were no P-40's or anti-aircraft guns for miles to keep the Zeros up. But we did have three D-model Fortresses out of commission we were using for spare parts. So Lieutenant McGee dismounted their guns, and Master Sergeant Silva and I decided to mount them in holes around the airfield. At least these would keep off strafers.

Help Yourself to a Salad!
(See Recipes Below)

Salad Magic

Salads are in season summer, winter, fall and spring, but in spring you can really have all the variety you want. There are crisp greens aplenty, perhaps fresh from your own garden, and loads of fresh fruits and vegetables to complete the demands of health and satisfy the appetite for really fresh - from - the - garden foods.

Everywhere you go you hear people saying, "A salad is just the thing," or "I want something green and crisp." It's a sign of spring, this desire to eat foods that fit with the newness and freshness of spring.

A new idea for serving is to try a salad buffet for it will save you preparing individual salads for everyone. Simply set salad ingredients in bowls, park them on a tray and whisk them into the dining room for everyone to make up his own combination. In the picture illustrated above, you will notice the bowl of salad dressing is surrounded by crisp greens, and then there are bowls of grapefruit sections with avocado pears, strawberries, pears or peaches and prunes stuffed with cottage or cream cheese and nuts—all the makings for salad for helping yourself to any combination that appeals to you and your guests.

Salads can double for both the salad and dessert course, or they can be the mainstay of your luncheon for the club.

*Salad-Dessert Loaf. (Serves 6)

- 1 envelope plain unflavored gelatin
- 1/4 cup cold water
- 2 egg yolks
- 1 tablespoon melted butter or substitute
- 1/4 cup mild vinegar
- 3 tablespoons vinegar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon paprika
- Few grains cayenne, if desired
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons canned pineapple juice
- 1 cup prepared fruit
- 1 cup evaporated milk, whipped

Soften gelatin in cold water. Beat egg yolks and salt. Add vinegar, salt, butter, cayenne, paprika and pineapple juice gradually. Whip lightly. Add milk and cook in top of double boiler until of custard consistency, stirring constantly. Remove from fire and dissolve softened gelatin in hot custard mixture. Chill, stirring occasionally while cooling. When mixture begins to set, fold in whipped, evaporated milk and fruit, cut in small pieces (orange, cherries, canned pineapple, grapefruit, etc.).

Lynn Says:

Give Yourself Health! Egyptians cultivated salad foods such as onions and garlic; Romans enjoyed chicory and lettuce. Why shouldn't you?

Your cues to a good salad are few but important: ingredients should be well chilled, attractively arranged and served with the proper dressing. Most fruit salads take a whipped cream dressing or cooked dressing or mayonnaise flavored with fruit juices. Occasionally, in the case of a bland fruit or citrus fruit, a french dressing is a must.

Seafoods are usually marinated before mixed with other ingredients. Marinate shrimps, crabmeat, etc., in french dressing even though you may use mayonnaise to hold the salad together. The above trick may also be tried with potato salad. It improves flavor.

peaches, pears or any desired fruit combination). When firm, unmold on platter and garnish with green pepper. Trim platter with salad greens.

Shrimps in a salad can make up the main dish for a warm night supper without too much fussing on your part:

Shrimp Salad. (Serves 6)

- 2 No. 1 cans shrimp
- 2 1/4 cups diced cooked potatoes
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/2 cup french dressing
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- Salad greens

- Ripe olives

Combine shrimp, potatoes, celery and green pepper. Add french dressing, lemon juice and salt. Chill. Just before serving, moisten with mayonnaise. Serve on chop plate garnished with salad greens, tomatoes, wedges, green pepper rings and ripe olives.

A salad that's substantial and really good is one that combines fish with macaroni. A subtle combination of seasonings makes it just perfect eating:

Macaroni-Salmon Salad. (Serves 6 to 8)

- 1 1/2 cups flaked salmon, tuna or crabmeat
- 1 cup cooked macaroni
- 1 cup canned peas
- 1/2 cup diced celery
- 2 tablespoons minced pimiento
- 2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickle
- Salt and pepper to taste
- Mayonnaise

Combine ingredients in order given. Toss lightly with dressing and serve, well chilled in lettuce cups. The following salads are cool and vitamin-rich, perfect foil for warmer weather:

Raw Vegetable Salad.

- 2 cups raw carrots, grated
- 1 cup raw cabbage, shredded
- 1/4 cup raw celery, chopped
- 1/4 cup onions, diced
- Cooked salad dressing

Mix together vegetables with just enough dressing to hold together.

Lettuce Rolls.

- 1 head lettuce
- 1 cup cottage cheese
- 1/2 cup seedless raisins
- 1/4 cup chopped nuts
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- Salt

Combine cheese, raisins and nuts. Blend well with mayonnaise. Add salt to taste. Use large lettuce leaves and spread with cheese mixture. Roll as for jelly roll; chill and serve.

Dressing Variations.

French Dressing: Crumble 1/4 pound Roquefort cheese into 1 cup french dressing. Serve over greens. Lemon Cream Dressing: To 1 cup chilled, evaporated cream, whipped, add 3 tablespoons honey and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Serve with Fruit Salad. Mayonnaise: Add 1/4 cup chili sauce, 2 tablespoons pickle relish, and 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped to 1 cup mayonnaise. This is good over lettuce.

DO YOU have a large wall space somewhere in your house that looks rather bare? Why not fill it with a group of matched brackets on which you may make an attractive arrangement of bric-a-brac and trailing vines?

This sketch shows a set of three brackets in a quaint old-fashioned heart design over a davenport in he living room. The center bracket is fourteen inches wide with one of the matching smaller brackets on each side. The sketch also shows how easy it is to cut out the heart design with a sharp knife after boring holes with a brace and bit. Any school boy who has the use of a coping saw or maybe a jig saw may make these graceful brackets.

NOTE—Mrs. Spears has prepared an actual size pattern for all the pieces of this set of wall brackets, with complete directions for cutting, assembling and finishing. The lines of these brackets are so well proportioned that you will be proud to own them. Ask for Pattern 263 and enclose 15 cents, which covers cost and mailing. Address:

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT

A researcher in things rubber reported that in 1858 the trade in rubber products ran between four and five million dollars annually and the industry employed 10,000 workers. Vulcanization had been known less than 20 years then.

The extra man-hours required in the manufacture of heavy tires for military airplanes, trucks, combat vehicles and for civilian trucks, buses and farm tractors mean that the major share of the tire-building manpower and facilities available must be devoted to this job, in the opinion of John L. Collier, B. F. Goodrich president. These are the essential needs from a current tire standpoint.
